BRITISH NORTH BORNEO.

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION—
No. 64.

NOTICE.

TO SHIP MASTERS, SHIPPING AGENTS, &c.

WHEREAS it has been brought to the notice of the GOVERNMENT of BRITISH NORTH BORNEO that Chinese who are desirous of emigrating to British North Borneo find a difficulty in doing so owing to their want of knowledge of the date of departure of ships and steamers.

It is hereby made known that a commission of not more than ONE DOLLAR for each able bodied adult Chinaman will be paid to whosoever may chiefly assist in procuring passages for Immigrants to British North Borneo, on a printed order from the Captain addressed to the Government Agents in Hongkong who are hereby authorised to pay such orders.

By the Governor's Command,
L. B. VON DONOP,
Government Secretary.
Sandakan, 6th August, 1887.

The PRINTED ORDERS referred to in the above Notification can be obtained from us.

GIBB, LIVINGSTON & Co.,
Government Agents.
Hongkong, 15th September, 1887. [1775

BRITISH NORTH BORNEO OR SABAH, SANDAKAN.

NOTICE.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF CHINA.

The Government of British North Borneo being desirous of seeing honest Chinese Farmers, Gardeners, Traders and others settle in this country are willing to offer them free grants of land on the following easy terms:—

1.—Intending immigrants should understand that the land is as a rule covered with Forest which the immigrants must fell and clear for themselves.

2.—Of this land in localities approved by the Government, each man will be given one acre and each woman one acre, and each child, whether a boy or a girl, under sixteen years of age, half an acre.

3.—The Farmers and Gardeners must begin properly to cultivate and plant the land selected by them within five years after they have selected it for which a provisional lease will be given, and to avoid any mistake it will be better that they should immediately on their arrival see the Government Officer of the post and give in their names and the ages of the members of their families. This can be done without any payment whatever.

4.—After the land has been selected and planting begun the Government will give a written lease for each lot which will endure for 999 years that is practically for ever, and all that the owners will have to do will be to pay to the Government the small sum of ten cents a year for each acre they hold and five cents for each half acre, and in return for this small payment the Government guarantees them protection and that they shall not be oppressed by either their own countrymen, or by white men or by others

5.—Before they have obtained the written leases the Farmers and Gardeners cannot sell their lands to others without the consent of the Government, but after they have got the lease then they can sell the land if they wish. But if after the Lease is granted, the rent is not duly paid to the Government for three successive years, the land will revert to the Government.

6.—If any Farmer or Gardener wishes to have more than one acre of Land he will be able to buy up to five acres from Government at fifty cents per acre as the Government wish to see Chinese settled in the country. The quit-rent would be ten cents per acre.

7.—In Hongkong Messrs. GIBB, LIVINGSTON & Co., or Messrs. BIRLEY, DALRYMPLE & Co., will give every information to intending Immigrants as to the best way of coming to the country. From Hongkong there are often sailing Vessels coming to the country, and from Singapore there are three steamers running regularly.—In Singapore the Chinese can go to Messrs. A. L. JOHNSTON & Co., for advice.

8.—Chinese coming to this country need have no fear, as there are many of their countrymen settled here, and their customs are not interfered with by the Government, but Secret Societies are not allowed.

W. H. TREACHER,
Governor.

HONGKONG, SEPTEMBER 21ST, 1887.

THE Legislative Council on Monday was occupied in discussing the minimum amount of air space that should be allowed for every adult Chinaman. 240 cubic feet is considered sufficient for the London common lodging houses, but the Government is of opinion that nothing less than 300 feet would do for Hongkong. The Hon. A. P. MACEWEN proposed that the space should be fixed at 200 feet, and when it was seen that there was no chance of securing this, the Hon. J. BELL-IRVING proposed as a compromise 250 feet, which would have left Hongkong still in advance of London. But no; the Government rejected any compromise; it had said 300 feet and was determined to stick to it. The Acting Attorney-General, who seems to have no ideas of his own on the subject, read page after page of extracts from various scientific authors as to the amount of air space required by human beings; but the fact remains that people do live and thrive in spaces very much smaller than scientists may consider theoretically desirable, and if 240 feet are considered practically sufficient in London 250 might reasonably have been taken as sufficient in Hongkong. The Surveyor-General admits that in a climate like Singapore 300 feet would not be necessary. Well, for the greater portion of the year we have a climate like that of Singapore in so far as it induces people to keep their windows open or to sleep out of doors, and it is only during a very brief period that the cold is sufficient to make the Chinaman careful about keeping draughts out of his room. For the sake of this brief period is it necessary or desirable to enforce stringent regulations as to overcrowding—regulations which, if enforced, will necessarily have the effect of making the abouring man pay an increase on his already burdensome rent in order to secure the accommodation he does not want but which an arbitrary Government says he must have? If any of our readers have any doubt as to whether 300 cubic feet is more than necessary let them measure one of their own rooms and divide the cubic contents by three hundred. This will give the number of persons that might sleep in the room according to the idea of the Government. We think every one will agree that a much larger number might reasonably, comfortably, and safely occupy the room. We believe that if the cabins of many steamers were measured it would be found that the air space allowed for the passengers is much less than 300 feet. Of course, as Mr. MACEWEN says, we should be glad if every person in the colony could have a room as large as the largest at Government House. But that is not the question. The great bulk of the population have to live on wages of $6 and $7 a month, and perhaps out of this amount have to support a family. Space is very valuable in Hongkong, and the chief item of expenditure with most persons is the rent. Rents in Hongkong are, we believe, higher than in any other part of the world. To adopt a policy which will have the effect of further raising the rents of the working classes strikes us as cruel and heartless. Ample breathing space during sleep is, of course, desirable, but the Government has no right to insist that a man shall pay for more than is absolutely necessary. 300 feet, we maintain, is more than necessary. A room containing 2,000 cubic feet, fitted up with bunks, could accommodate ten men comfortably. General CAMERON refers to the troops with their 1,005 cubic feet of air space per man, and the excellent health they enjoy. But is it all due to air space? Is nothing to be set down to the blankets and punkahs under which they sleep, to the flannel shirts and cholera belts they are compelled to wear, to the regulations which prevent their exposing themselves to the sun, or to the constant medical inspection? If we follow the argument out to its logical conclusion where will it land us? A soldier is given so many cubic feet of space, therefore a coolie must have so many feet; a soldier is confined to barracks during the heat of the day, therefore a coolie must not be allowed to work in the sun. There can be no doubt that working in the sun is very injurious indeed, to the Chinaman as well as the European. Are we to expect that the Government will bring in a Bill dealing with this source of injury to health? What is wanted in the Government is a little practical common sense, not far-fetched theories and fads. The Government was quite willing to laugh to scorn the opinion of the medical members of the Sanitary Board on one point, but on other points, where medical opinion fits in with the fancies of our sanitary reformers, it is quoted by the page and the public is apparently expected to pay as much reverence to it as to holy writ.

The division taken on the question was of the usual description—the official members on one side, the unofficial members on the other, the amendment being lost by a majority of one. But it was not, strictly speaking, a Government measure. General CAMERON, being asked for a statement on that point, was magnanimous, and said he would not make it a Government question, that every one would vote as he liked. But the officials acted as good men and true, and did not desert their chief, even although told they might consider themselves as volunteers and not under compulsion. Soldiers in their training have to go through the goose step, which gives them steadiness on their legs; civil officials have to go through a sort of analogous training in the exercise of following their leader, and are taught to recognise the distinction between the two great divisions of the human race, the official and the unofficial. So when they are made Legislative Councillors their votes may generally be expected to be given on the side of the Government, even although they are told they may vote as they choose. It is not that they are servile in their voting, or that they are incapable of forming an opinion of their own if they care to take the trouble to do so, but they naturally proceed on the assumption that the Government must be held to be right and the unofficial members wrong until the contrary is shown. If, therefore, the unofficials are a little short in argumentative power, or if the arguments pro and con are about equally balanced, an official will as a matter of course give the benefit of the doubt to the Government. Such we take to have been something like the frame of mind of the Acting Chief Justice on Monday. His Honour did not profess to have arrived at his opinion by any independent investigation. Had he done so we venture to say there is no man in the colony to whose opinion the public would have attached greater weight. But what Mr. RUSSELL said in effect was—that he had listened to the arguments on the official side and to those on the unofficial side and gave his judgment on the case as presented to him, that judgment being that the representatives of the ratepayers had not made out a case against the Government. If his Honour will adopt our recommendation of measuring a room in his own house and forming an opinion for himself as to the number of men who might without danger to health be accommodated in bunks ranged round the walls he will naturally come to the conclusion that the case was not fairly presented to him. He evidently attached some importance to the fact that the London minimum is 240 feet only, because he put a question to the Acting Attorney-General as to whether the regulations for metropolitan common lodging houses had been overridden by the model by-laws of the Board of Health to which Mr. ACKROYD had referred. Mr. ACKROYD was unable to answer the question. We will do it for him. The metropolitan by-laws have not been overridden by the model by-laws. The latter are not, per se, in force anywhere. They are, as their name implies, "model" by-laws. Mr. ACKROYD seems entirely ignorant of the machinery of sanitary administration in England. Every town of any size secures from Parliament authority to make its own sanitary regulations, and in no two towns will they be found to be the same, being subject in every case to the modifications or amplifications consequent on local customs and the current of public opinion. In the country districts and small towns where special Acts have not been obtained the sanitary authority is vested in the Boards of Guardians, Improvement Commissioners, Local Boards, and similar authorities. These authorities are at liberty to make their own by-laws, subject to the approval of the Local Government Board, and the "model by-laws" are presented to them as a pattern. So much for the model by-laws. It is idle to introduce the Imperial Act into the discussion in Hongkong. The Imperial Act is largely permissive in its nature and varies in its application according to the views of the local authority through which it is administered. If the Government here wanted a model it should have taken the regulations of some particular town in England, and for this purpose no better model could have been taken than London. In London the minimum amount of space to be provided in common lodging houses is fixed at 240 feet, and the same measurement might very reasonably be adopted here, especially as the regulation is to be applied to private houses as well as lodging houses—and the views of the population here as to the amount of space they require, speaking generally, are more moderate than those of the average Londoner. In Manchester, it is true, a very much larger space has been fixed upon as the minimum, which may be used as an argument in support of the Government view. But the fact shows, also, how far local opinion differs in England. One town says it won't have three hundred feet, another town says it will have much more, and each has its own way. But the Hongkong Government refuses to consider local opinion at all. It says it will "enforce" what it thinks proper, and if the ratepayers' representatives do succeed in convincing it on a point here and there that it is going too far, and a modification is made, the modification is spoken of as a "concession," as something conceded as a favour. General CAMERON laments the division between the official and unofficial phalanxes, but while this is the spirit animating the officials the division is inevitable. The division does not imply hostility, but it is the business of the unofficial members to keep a close watch on the Government to see that it does not impose on the community any legislation the community does not want, and they must therefore always be looked upon as serving the very useful purpose of an opposition, using the word in its strict parliamentary sense. But the opposition votes with the Government when it can; and in this respect General CAMERON did the unofficial members but scant justice on Monday. His Excellency said:—"If we vote always, as it were, in two parties, if the unofficial members vote just as much together as the members of the Government do, why, it makes it very necessary there should be unanimity amongst the Government." But the Council does not always vote in two parties. There are comparatively few Government measures that the unofficial members think it necessary to vote against. Nor do they always vote together. Each member preserves his own independence, and even in the divisions which have taken place in Committee on this Public Health Bill the unofficial vote has been more than once divided, a portion of it going over to the Government. When, therefore, the unofficial members do unite as one man we think great deference should be shown to their opinion, being that of five representative men each exercising an independent judgment, whereas the officials work as a body and do not exercise an independent judgment. There are one or two historical cases where an official has ventured to do so; the consequences have not been such as to encourage others to follow the example.

The export duty on salt in Tonquin and Annam has been fixed at 50 centimes per 100 kilogrammes.

According to a correspondent of the Courier, it is probable that Mr. E. L. Oxenham, H. B. M.'s Consul at Chinkiang, will shortly go home on leave.

The Agents (Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co.) inform us that the Glen Line steamer Glengarry, from London, left Singapore on Monday for this port.

The Mercury reports that a mob of fifty-two griffins arrived in Shanghai on the 15th inst. from Chinkiang per steamer Fekin. They are described as a fine lot.

The French steamer Hissus, which arrived here yesterday from Singapore, reports having picked up on Sunday, the 18th instant, about 90 miles S.E. of Hainan, the crew of a disabled junk numbering fourteen men.

The Shen-pao states that His Excellency Li Men-lin, who had been appointed Chinese Minister to Japan, has resigned his post on account of sickness, and an official named Cha Koh-ying has been appointed in his place.

We would remind our readers that Herr Köhler's second pianoforte recital will take place this evening at the City Hall, the programme of which will be found on our front page. Herr Köhler has given a recital at the house of the German Consul at Canton.

A Shanghai native paper says that the coal mines of Yih district, in Shantung, are very active, and dozens of large junks are employed in bringing the very excellent coal down to Tsing-kiang Pu (north of Yangchow), where the price is about $3 a ton higher than at the pit mouth.

Telegrams published in the Courrier d'Haiphong say that a decree has been issued regulating the Customs Union of Indo-China; also that all colonies will enjoy free entry for their goods in Indo-China, and that foreign goods transhipped in Indo-China will be entitled to a reduction of 80 per cent. in the Customs duties.

A Russian squadron of six vessels, the most formidable of which are the ironclads Admiral Nakhimoff and Admiral Kornileff, is (says a Singapore paper) expected there shortly from the Baltic to reinforce the Pacific squadron. The Admiral Nakhimoff is an ironclad of 7,781 tons displacement, and carries 14 guns, 4 of 9-inch and 10 of 6-inch.

Attention is directed to an advertisement on our front page announcing an entertainment on Friday, the 23rd instant, in the St. Andrew's Hall, being a complimentary benefit to Mr. Plantagenet Littlewood, on which occasion some well known lady and gentlemen amateurs will assist. Signor Cattaneo will again contribute musical selections.

Last night there was a large attendance at Chiarini's Circus, and an attractive programme was most satisfactorily gone through, the performance generally being very successful. Mr. Alabaster and family, from Canton, were present among the audience. To-night the Company will give their final performance before proceeding to Macao, and it will be for the benefit of the director Signor Chiarini. A capital entertainment may be confidently reckoned on.

The illustrated papers received by this mail both contain sketches shewing how the jubilee was celebrated in Eastern Asia. The Graphic has a page of illustrations of the Jubilee at Yokohama, by Mr. C. W. Cole, R.N., and the Illustrated London News one of the torchlight procession there by the Rev. R. O'D. Ross-Lewin, of the Audacious. The Graphic also publishes a two page series of sketches of a Garden Party at Tokyo in the Mikado's Park. This is likewise by Mr. Cole.

The Shanghai Mercury says that Mr. Chaumont, of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, has had a very narrow escape in Japan. A letter dated Miyanoshita, 26th of August, says that while he with several others and a guide were on Mount Ojigoku, known as Big Hell, Mr. Chaumont, whilst looking down the crater, fell into it, and after rolling and tumbling a great distance his clothes caught in a tree or something. Whilst in this perilous position he was rescued by the guide, who was lowered down by a rope. We are glad to hear that his injuries are very slight indeed.

The German mail steamer Neckar has been unfortunate enough to go ashore in the Hwangpoo. The Shanghai Courier of the 15th inst. says:—"In last night's issue we mentioned that the Neckar had to discharge some 300 to 400 tons of cargo at Woosung, and that she would come up to the Wharves to-day. It now appears that the steamer, in coming up the river with this morning's tide, was so unfortunate as to run rather badly ashore on the Upper Middle Ground, some six miles from here. We understand that she will not be able to be towed off before the next spring tides, i.e., perhaps the day after to-morrow."

The notice of the new College of Medicine will be found on our front page. The inaugural address will be given in the City Hall on Saturday, the 1st proximo, by the President, Dr. Manson.

The Soochow correspondent of the Shên-pao writes that a telegram has been received there, stating that H. E. Yü-loh left Peking on the 9th inst., for the South, to take up his post as Viceroy of the Liangkiang provinces.

As will be seen by reference to the advertisement of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, several changes have been made in the directorate consequent on Mr. Grote's early departure for Europe. Mr. C. D. Bottomley takes the Chairmanship, the Hon. J. Bell-Irving is Deputy Chairman, and Mr. S. C. Michaelsen (of Messrs. Melchers & Co.) has the seat on the Board vacated by Mr. Grote.

The Hu-pao states that since Liu Ming-chuan, Governor of Formosa, memorialised for the Imperial sanction to open the sulphur mines in that island, and addressed the Governors of the respective provinces bespeaking their aid in favour of Formosan sulphur, the sulphur merchants at Canton have become alarmed, lest their business should be injured by the competition of the Taiwan article, and a merchant named Tsêng Yung-nien has drawn up four regulations regarding the sulphur trade, and submitted them to the Governor of Kwangtung. The Governor has therefore ordered the Provincial Treasurer and the Mining Department at Canton to consult upon the proposed regulations and report to him their decision.

The seventh annual meeting of the China Shipowners' Association was held on the 14th instant at the office of the Agent, Shanghai. After passing the Directors' report and accounts, the shareholders agreed to wind up the Company, and Messrs. Morris, Galles, M. H. Cook, and Bannerman were appointed a Committee with the same power as a Board of Directors to carry out the dissolution, and wind up the Association as advantageously as possible. The report of the Company showed that the net earnings, amounting to Tls. 4,085.96, had been more than absorbed by re-classing, re-metalling, and repairs, the working showing a loss for the year of Tls. 3,907.49. The four ships of the company's fleet, the Martha, Omega, Saisuma, and John Potts, are fully employed at current rates of freight.

The Penang Gazette of the 9th inst. says:—"H.M. gunboat Zephyr (4) arrived here from Hongkong on Tuesday last. This completely worn-out vessel is proceeding home, where she will no doubt either be broken up or sold. The voyage from Hongkong to Singapore occupied eleven days—the Zephyr having to anchor twice consequent upon the rough weather. A high rate of speed in vessels of this description is impossible; for the coal-bunkers are only capable of carrying 40 tons, and when any distance over 1,000 miles has to be travelled, it is necessary to carry a deck-cargo of 25 tons of coal extra. It is expected that the Zephyr will be eleven days between this port and Colombo, and that she will not arrive home till towards the middle of November—rather a long-drawn-out voyage for a British man-of-war now-a-days."

A foreign merchant of Tientsin, says the Chinese Times, recently made a contract for about 1,500 Chinese bales of camels' wool, and sellers promised that there should be but little sand or dirt. The first instalment was received, and passed through the cleaning machine. The weight of sand and gravel taken out was exactly 35 per cent. of the gross weight. But this is not all. The wool had been much wetted, partly to obtain a fraudulent increase of weight, and partly to make the added dirt stick in. In consequence of the wetting the wool is damaged by about two taels per picul at least. But in any way shipment can only be made at a risk, as the effect of the soaking is to rot the fibre of the wool until it is almost unfit for spinning or weaving. The trade in sheep's wool is in no better position.

The Penang Gazette states:—On Monday evening, the 5th inst., a strange disturbance took place on board the steamer Hye Leong. So far as can be gathered from the somewhat confused and contradictory statements of those who took part in it, it would appear that a lot of Chinese coolies on board had been drinking, and were very noisy in consequence. Captain McVittie, the master, was the only European on board at the time, and hearing the row he went and told them to be quiet. According to the coolies a bottle was thrown—they suppose by the Captain—which struck and cut one of them slightly. They at once went for the Captain, who seized a sword bayonet, and tried to defend himself; but, fearing that he would be killed, suddenly made for the side and jumped overboard. He was picked up by the marine police in a very exhausted state. Now comes the curious part of the case. One of the coolies who was on board is missing, but what has become of him no one knows. The coolies were brought before Captain Bradbery, the Harbour Master, the next day, and sentenced to two months' imprisonment each. The Hye Leong left for Singapore on the 7th inst. in charge of the chief officer.

The long threatened Achinese invasion of Deli has at last taken place. The Deli Courant of the 3rd September announces that a band of marauders from Achean have made their appearance in Langkat on the Lepan river, where petroleum springs are worked by Chinese and Javanese coolies under guard of armed police, whose breechloaders had aroused their cupidity. The enemy failed to get hold of any of the rifles. The policeman, on becoming aware of the impending danger, lost no time in bringing themselves and their rifles into a place of safety. The Chinese and Javanese made off at once, and did not wait for the police to set them the example. Reinforcements of police have been despatched to the seat of disturbance where new positions will be taken up. The Sultan of Langkat has despatched a headman to the spot to organise resistance to the marauders. To prepare for any eventuality, the Glenbervie estate has been occupied by a detachment of military. On the 3rd September reinforcements of soldiers left Medan for the disturbed district. From Upper Langkat still more disquieting tidings have been received. A force of Achinese under the leadership of Nya Makam an Tuuku Umar, have attacked and destroyed a village there. Several Malays were killed on the occasion. The band afterwards moved off in the direction of the Wampoh river. A military post on the Andronge state in that quarter has been reinforced. Additional policemen have also been despatched thither. At the present moment there is no lack of soldiers in Langkat to give a good account of the invaders.

The Chinese Times of the 10th inst. has the following:—During the week His Excellency the Viceroy has given audiences to two master mariners who until lately were in the service of the China Merchants' S. N. Co. One, Captain Roberts, who was Marine Superintendent for three years, desires to be re-instated in his post. The other, Captain Petersen, who was dismissed on account of the loss of the steamer Pautah while under his temporary command, wishes to have another ship. The Viceroy received both graciously, but sent them away unsatisfied. For Captain Petersen we will make some plea. He has by decision of a competent and friendly court been found blameworthy for the loss of his vessel, but still extenuations can be advanced. He is not the first skilled seaman who has been in trouble on account of fog, and against the one disaster should be placed his twenty-seven years of successful and meritorious service. If it be contrary to the laws and discipline of the company for the high authorities to reverse a step taken by the responsible directors, then we hope the Fukien Viceroy and Lin Ming-chuan, Governor of Formosa, will call to mind Captain Petersen's very eminent service to China during the recent war when in a critical time he commanded the Meiyoo, and transported many thousands of soldiers and great quantities of stores of war in the most masterly way into Formosa. If Captain Petersen's services are not forgotten we hope he will not be disregarded ungratefully by those who know and who have profited by them, and that he will get a new ship if not from the China Merchants' Co. from one of the Provincial Governments, or in default of that, some other honourable employment suited to his condition. It is rather a bad thing for the Chinese officials to turn their backs on the foreign officers who stood by them faithfully and at personal risk during the war.—Captain Roberts writes to the Shanghai papers to contradict the above statement so far as it refers to himself. He says:—"I sought an interview with His Excellency the Viceroy for a special purpose, which I accomplished to my entire satisfaction, and I expressed no desire to be reinstated as an official of the C. M. S. N. Co."

It may interest our colonists in the North who seem to think the great local Bank is tottering towards its fall to learn that enough confidence is felt here in its stability to cause its one dollar notes to sell at a premium of one per cent. That has been the rate for the past day or two and it is expected to go higher. This is one of the many things which shew with how little wisdom Hongkong is governed—by the clerk in Downing-street who directs our destinies.

A fatal accident occurred in the harbour yesterday morning through alleged careless navigation of a steam-launch. It appears that the launch Kam-chan ran into a sampan in the harbour and, owing to the shock the latter sustained, a girl, named Wong Lin Ho, seven years of age, was thrown overboard and was drowned. The father of the deceased lodged a charge against the master of the Kam-chan, named Li Yung, charging him with causing the death of the girl. The case was formally called before Mr. Mitchell-Innes yesterday morning at the Police Court, and was then remanded till this morning, bail in $500 being allowed.

The facts about the great and signally disastrous fire at Hankow on the 2nd inst. appear to be gradually finding their way to Shanghai. The Courier says that it has been established as a fact that the number of junks which were burnt amounts to 512, besides some 2,000 sampans. The total loss of the property, afloat and ashore, destroyed is estimated at fully Tls. 2,000,000. The number of lives lost is given in round figures, at 1,000. A shocking accident is reported to have occurred a few days after the fire. It appears that three large godowns at Han-yang (situated on the shore opposite to that on which Hankow lies) and containing vegetable oil were burned during the conflagration. Shortly after the fire had burned itself out, several hundred coolies were seen busy digging out from beneath the débris some oil tubs which had escaped total destruction. On a sudden one of the brick walls which was left standing, came down with a crash, burying beneath its ruins a large number of coolies. Eighty dead bodies were afterwards recovered, and the number of those who are more or less seriously injured is said to be considerable. As to the origin of the fire the following is given as coming from a trustworthy source. We reported previously that on the fatal morning Ex-Taotai Wo was to start by junk for his home in Shantung. In order to prepare a treat for his retinue, he ordered several hundreds of cakes to be made on his premises, which were near the Creek in which his junks were lying. The cook who was charged with preparing these dainties could, seemingly, not get the fire to burn quick enough, and in order to hasten its blazing up he poured some kerosine on the fire-wood, with the result that the cook-house was set on fire, the flames spreading with furious rapidity to the neighbouring buildings and the junks moored in the Creek. Ex-Taotai Wo lost all his personal property.

SUPREME COURT.

20th September.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

BEFORE THE HON J. RUSSELL, ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE.

THE YAUMATI MURDER.

The Acting Attorney-General said in this case Mr. Francis, who had been retained for the defence, was ready to go on with the case, and asked that it might be heard on Monday next.

His Lordship agreed to the date named.

LARCENY.

Ho Afuk was charged with the larceny of four jackets, the property of To Tsing Meng, on the 29th August and also with receiving the said jackets well knowing them at the time to have been stolen.

Prisoner pleaded not guilty.

The Acting Attorney-General prosecuted. The prisoner was undefended.

The following gentlemen served on the jury:—Messrs. E. J. B. de Bayeau, G. L. Duncan, F. Gutierrez, D. J. Dunlop, J. Sutherland, J. A. da Luz, M. P. Basonjee.

The Acting Attorney-General, in charging the jury, said the prisoner was charged on two counts, first with stealing four jackets, and second with receiving those jackets knowing that they had been stolen. The complainant was the master of a druggist's shop in Queen's Road Central. The windows of his room were open and these jackets were in the room at 2 o'clock on the morning of the 29th ult. A Police Constable would tell them that about five that morning he saw the prisoner running down the road, who, when he saw he was watched, sat down in the road. The policeman thinking his conduct strange went up to him and found he was sitting on two jackets and that he had on two others. He took him to the Police Station and shortly afterwards the complainant came to the Station and identified the jackets as his property. On this evidence he should ask them to find prisoner guilty on either the first or second count. Prisoner had stated that a man named Aping had given him the jackets to take care of, but they had not been able to find Aping.

To Taing Meng identified the jackets as his, and P.C. 271 detailed the circumstances under which the prisoner was arrested.

The jury unanimously found prisoner guilty on the second count.

Prisoner pleaded guilty to two previous convictions.

Sentence was deferred.

THEFT OF CLOTHING.

Wong Po was charged with stealing a pair of trousers, the property of Mak Kee-Pui, on the 30th August.

Prisoner pleaded not guilty.

The Acting Attorney-General said prisoner stood charged with stealing a pair of silk trousers. Complainant was a stonecutter at Shaukiwan, and on the 30th August, about 10 a.m., prisoner came into his hut and asked for a cup of tea. The tea was given him and he entered into conversation with another man who was in the hut. During that time the complainant went to sleep, and on waking he found the prisoner had gone and he missed a pair of silk trousers. He immediately went down to the village and met prisoner coming out of a pawnshop. He asked him where the trousers were and prisoner said the trousers belonged to him. He gave him in charge. The accountant of the pawnshop was sent for to the Police Station, and he picked out the prisoner from a number of men as the man who had pawned the trousers.

The evidence of the complainant and the other man who was in the shed at the time was then taken.

After hearing this his Lordship asked the Attorney-General if he thought the case was worth going on with.

The Acting Attorney-General said the first witness had given evidence totally at variance with that given before the Magistrate.

His Lordship, addressing the jury, said he thought they would be hardly justified in returning a verdict of guilty on the evidence before them.

The jury therefore acquitted the prisoner.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Leung Ashin was charged that he did feloniously kill and slay Lam Atsoi on the 1st inst.

Prisoner pleaded not guilty.

The Acting Attorney-General, in stating the case to the jury, said although the charge was a very serious one the facts relating to the case were very simple. The prisoner and some other coolies were carrying bales of cotton from certain godowns close to the Macgregor Barracks. A gun-lascar who was there on sentry duty would tell them that prisoner came out of the godown with a bale of cotton and put it down to tighten the fastenings. The deceased stooped down and picked up some bits of cotton which fell from the bale. Prisoner called out to him and he stood up. Prisoner seized him by the throat and pushed him. Deceased fell, striking his head against the side channel. He appeared to have been hurt. The gun-lascar said that he was bleeding from the head and that he was insensible. The Police removed him to the Hospital, but he died the same evening. The doctor would be called and would describe the nature of the injuries deceased received, and it would be for them to say after hearing the evidence whether they considered whether or not it was clearly proved that death had resulted from the violence exercised by the prisoner.

The evidence was then taken of Dr. Scanlan, the two gun-lascars who witnessed the assault, the Sikh Constable who arrested the prisoner, the European Sergeant who had the body of deceased removed to the hospital, and Inspector Hennessy, in charge of the case.

The prisoner stated that deceased was picking up the cotton from the bale and he called out to him and pushed him away. He had no intention of injuring deceased. He called a witness in support of his defence.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The passing of sentence was postponed.

The Sessions were adjourned till Monday, the 21st inst., at 10.30 a.m.

POLICE COURT.

20th September.

BEFORE MR. H. E. WODEHOUSE.

TSZ-FA LOTTERY.

Au Ayun, bricklayer, was charged with causing an obstruction by selling tsz-fa lottery tickets in Sin Hing-lane, on the 19th instant.

Peer Bhoy, P.C. 613, proved the charge to the satisfaction of the Court.

Fined $10, or in default fourteen days' hard labour.

STREET GAMBLING.

Wong Awing, blacksmith, was fined $2 or fourteen days' hard labour for obstructing the Chinese Recreation Ground by gambling thereon on the 19th instant.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

Kwok Li Lo, hawker, was charged by Mr. Francisco Freire, auditor examiner in the Government Offices, residing in the Blue Buildings, with disorderly conduct in his house, on the 19th instant.

Complainant said defendant came to his house at 4.30 p.m. and began creating a great disturbance about a debt that complainant's daughter owed him for cakes.

Defendant denied having made a disturbance. He said he was satisfied that the girl promised to pay him.

Fined $2, or fourteen days' hard labour.

BEFORE MR. N. G. MITCHELL-INNES.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Li Yung, master of the Kam Chan steam-launch, was charged by Cheung Wan Tai, boatman, with causing the death of complainant's daughter, named Wong Lin Ho, seven years of age, by careless navigation of his steam-launch in this harbour, on the 20th instant.

The case was formally called and remanded till this morning, bail being allowed in $500.

CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

The chief officer of the steamer Geelong was charged with assaulting Tam Tin Mun, tally-man, and also with shooting at Cheung Kan, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm.

Mr. Ewens appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Hastings (from the office of Messrs. Wotton and Deacon) for the defence.

The following evidence was taken:—

Tam Tin Man stated—I am a shop coolie in the Wing Kee shop. I remember going on board the steamer Geelong on the 15th instant about 8.30 a.m. I went to get some coal for Wing Kee. I had an order for the coal, given me by my master. When I got to the Geelong I got two lighters and had them one on each side of the steamer. I was in one, and Cheung Kan was in the other. I saw Cheung Kan go up the side of the steamer to make fast. I saw defendant take out a knife and cut the rope which Cheung Kan had been fastening. The lighter drifted away. Cheung Kan was left at the side of the steamer. I saw defendant strike and kick him. He fell overboard into the water. I saw defendant take out a revolver and fire at him. I heard 5 or 6 reports. I went on board by the advice of the captain of the lighter in which I was. I asked for the chief officer. I went up to defendant and showed him the order. Defendant looked at it and said "Where is your lighter?" I pointed out the two to him. I asked defendant why he had cut Cheung Kan's rope, beat and struck him. He slapped my face three times. I asked him to give me back the order. He rubbed it up and put it in his pocket. I told him I would summons him. Then I went away and reported the matter. The steamer was deep in the water, the lighters were not.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hastings—I saw over the steamer from the deck of my lighter, said saw defendant cut the rope which was on the other side of the steamer from me. I saw defendant strike Cheung Kan near the gangway on the port side. I was on the starboard side. Cheung Kan was standing on the ladder and defendant was standing on the deck. The ladder was drawn up. Cheung Kan was at the top of the ladder. The ship has a high poop and deck houses. My lighter was by the funnel on the starboard gangway. I was not opposite the poop. I did not threaten the chief mate. Defendant did not tell me he would give me coal when he got coolies. I did not shake my fist in his face.

To the Court—I saw every single thing that happened. I have told everything I saw. The chief mate cut Cheung Kan's rope, slapped, kicked, and fired at him without any reason. I did not see Cheung Kan when he was in the water. I saw defendant take out his revolver, point it in the direction of the water and fire. More than three shots were fired by defendant. When the chief mate slapped me there was no reason for it except what I have stated. I saw over the deck where there was no poop or deck houses.

Leong Afook, master of one of the lighters, gave corroborative evidence.

Cheung Kan stated the case pretty much the same as the previous witnesses. He said that he did not know the European who assaulted him. He was knocked overboard, and when he came to the surface heard the report of 5 or 6 shots. He did not know who fired them. A bullet struck the water close to him, about two feet.

Wm. Houghton, master of the Geelong, said shortly after mooring in the harbour he heard a noise on the gangway. He saw the first witness talking to the defendant and shaking his finger in his face. He touched defendant's nose once. He was gesticulating and talking very loudly. Defendant told him not to talk too loud or else he would give him a smack. The first witness kept on talking and shaking his finger. Defendant gave him a smack with his open hand. Witness went out and told them he did not want noise on the gangway. Then he went away. He told the first witness four or five times to wait until the coolies came. There had been revolver practice at sea the day before. Defendant had been firing. He heard the report of three shots. He went out and told defendant he did not think that was a place to fire his revolver. Defendant said he was only cleaning it.

The case was again remanded to this day.

THE NAMTAU BURGLARY.

Wong Chow came before the Magistrate upon remand charged with being a rogue and vagabond and a person dangerous to the peace of the Colony. This was the man who was found by the Police in possession of a large quantity of silver jewellery and jade-stone ornaments supposed to form part of the plunder from the Cheung Fat Pawnbroker shop at Namtau. Two loaded revolvers were also found in his possession.

Mr. Caldwell appeared to represent the proprietors of the Cheung Fat.

Mr. Holmes, who represented the defendant, wished to know in what capacity Mr. Caldwell was present.

Mr. Caldwell stated that at the moment he appeared for the owners of the "Cheung Fat," although he momentarily expected instructions from the Yamen at Canton, he was not yet able to say that he appeared for the Chinese Government with the view to condition. On behalf of the Cheung Fat he wished to press the charge of unlawful possession of stolen goods.

Mr. Holmes submitted that His Worship would in that case have no jurisdiction.

Mr. Caldwell argued that while the Magistrate certainly had not jurisdiction to consider a crime committed in China unless moved by the Chinese Government, he could take cognizance of the charge preferred, the possession being within his jurisdiction.

His Worship decided against this argument, but intimated that he might adjudicate under Ordinance No. 2 of 1850.

Mr. Holmes argued that under that Ordinance the Magistrate's power could only be exercised upon information by the Chinese Government.

Mr. Caldwell pointed out that the wording of the Ordinance was in the disjunctive, and his Worship consequently had power.

This view was supported and the case proceeded.

Lum Amin was called and stated as follows:—I am employed in the Cheung Fat pawnshop at Namtau in China. It belongs to a company. The Cheung Fat was broken into and robbed on the night of the 23rd August. Was in the house asleep. At about 11 p.m. was awakened by cries of "Save life." Got up and went to the top floor, and hearing the voices of many persons outside, beat the drum. The building consists of offices and a tower for goods. The only entrance to the tower is by a door from the offices. The entrance is secured by a cross bar, a wooden door, three stout citement of the moment he has omitted altogether to answer what we did say, while he has with some particularity of detail replied to what we neither said nor hinted. It is not, however, our desire to analyse too critically Mr. Grote's explanation, and, presuming that it was his real intention to repudiate our remarks, we gladly accept the correction at his hands, and even, if it be any satisfaction to him personally, express our regret for dragging his name into the light in connection with transactions which were currently reported with circumstantial details here, but which we now know, on the authority of the Board of Directors of the Bank, never actually took place.

For indeed, as must have been obvious to any unbiassed reader, the case or supposed case, was only used to point a moral, and for Mr. Grote himself we expressed sympathy no less sincere and probably more discriminating than that of the Hon. Mr. Ryrie. The latter gentleman, who is, we believe, Auditor of the bank's accounts, made a quite remarkable defence of the Chairman; balanced, accountant fashion, by an onslaught on the Chinese Times. Much as we regret to find ourselves in conflict with the honourable councillor, we would, as a matter of choice, prefer to be the object of his attack rather than the victim of his protection; and it would need heavier thuds than Mr. Ryrie's to provoke us to retaliation, especially on one who is championing his friend. There are, however, some points of general interest in Mr. Ryrie's speech to which we may refer in passing. Resorting to the common device of men, and more especially women, who are beggared for an argument, he attributes our observations to "antipathy to the bank." But we are tempted to ask who is "the bank?" and who, if it comes to that, is Mr. Ryrie, who takes on himself to speak for it? This is just one of those curious notions that grow up in the close atmosphere of Queen's Road, that a mutual admiration society of auditors and directors constitutes the bank, the shareholders all over the world counting for nothing. The shareholders, however, are the bank, and auditors, &c., only their paid servants, and if this simple idea should ever penetrate the colonial mind a more wholesome relationship between the proprietary and the office-bearers would perhaps be established. Mr. Ryrie's general remarks are too mixed to make much out of them—probably the reporter's fault. He appears to repudiate with indignation what in the same breath he justifies, and so far as mere logic goes he annihilates himself. We say "appears," because it is not easy to say for certain what Mr. Ryrie repudiates and what he justifies. The general effect, however, is a eulogium on the ways of the Hongkong share market, and we entirely agree with Mr. Ryrie that such a market is conducive to the prosperity of the colony in affording inducement to investors in joint-stock enterprises. But if the Hon. Mr. Ryrie intended to stretch his ægis over another class of operations—the only ones as it happens which were in question—he was paying the colony a left-handed compliment; for if the prosperity of Hongkong depends in any degree on the particular form of share gambling which has been so notorious on the China coast it can only mean that Hongkong is able to lay the China ports under tribute; for no amount of exchange brokers' memos in Queen's Road will ever produce a single dollar. There is a perfectly clear distinction, which the Hon. Mr. Ryrie knows better than we, between trading and gambling. We should call it gambling when a man sells for distant delivery some thousands of shares in a Company which he does not possess, and if he "hedges" by buying for cash at a profit the utter rottenness of the business is spread out on the table before him in a way to prevent the possibility of misconception. And if he were a man in a position of trust or confidence which enabled him to make use of exclusive knowledge, the operation known as "bearing the stock" would be an act of treachery towards his employers, the shareholders. Mr. Ryrie refers vaguely to such matters as belonging to ancient history. That is just the reason why they can be mentioned now without any personal offence. But, after all, Mr. Ryrie ought to have been more explicit as to which kind of share dealing he was patronizing, for assuredly his blanket is too narrow to cover both descriptions.

The essence of the whole discussion, however, so volatile as perhaps to escape the notice of many readers, is the implicit condemnation of the practices which we have commented on which is contained in the speeches of the Chairman and the Auditor. The imputations—declared by the highest authority of the Bank ex cathedra to be entirely unfounded, and therefore we have the greatest pleasure in retracting them—were of a very milk-and-water character compared with what might have been said about some former transactions, yet even that mild and baseless charge hurts Mr. Grote so much that he calls it "scandalous," while Mr. Ryrie characterises it as "monstrous" and "unwarrantable".

We have now therefore at last got an authentic standard by which to judge the aberrations of bank directors. We know what is thought of share gambling in the inner circle, and now that the conspiracy of silence has been broken we may perhaps felicitate the shareholders on the probable non-recurrence of violent, arbitrary, and improper perturbations in the value of their property for which their own directors have in former years been so largely responsible.

A pet tomcat was dozing on a counter in a Vesey Street tea store, New York, the other afternoon, when its delightful mid-summer dreams were disturbed by the discordant notes of a hand organ ground out by an Italian who had a monkey for collector. The melody was "Marching through Georgia," or some other martial strain, which aroused grimalkin to a hump-backed, swollen-tail attitude of aggression. A customer, unconscious of the belligerent situation, smilingly held out a nickel for the monkey to take, but poor Jocko hadn't waltzed beyond the sill of the door before the cat pounced upon him, and in a second fur was flying in all directions. In the melee could be seen the poor Italian, endeavouring to save his constituent, the three clerks frantically trying to protect the open-mouthed bags of coffee and barrels of exposed sugar, the price signs of many colours, fragments of the military uniform of the surprised monkey, and the policeman on the beat with a drawn club, who was awakened from his reverie by the cries of the contestants. "After the battle, mother," the patrolman was engaged in the effect to settle two questions: "Who pays for the sugar?" was the double-bass problem offered by the storekeeper. "Who pays for-a monk?" was the oft-repeated interrogatory of the excited gentleman from Italy.

In the Pitti Palace, at Florence, is a table which, for originality in the matter of construction and ghastliness in conception, is probably without a rival. It was made by Giuseppe Sagatti, who passed several years of his life in its manufacture. To the casual observer it gives the impression of a curious mosaic of marbles of different shades and colours, for it looks like polished stone. In reality it is composed of human muscles and viscera. No less than a hundred bodies were requisitioned for the material. The table is round and about a yard in diameter, with a pedestal and four claw feet, the whole being formed of petrified human remains. The ornaments of the pedestal are made from the intestines, the claws with hearts, livers, and lungs, the natural colour of which is preserved. The table-top is constructed of muscles artistically arranged, and it is bordered with upwards of a hundred eyes, the effect of which is said to be highly artistic, since they retain all their lustre and seem to follow the observer. Sagatti died about fifty years ago. He obtained his bodies from the hospitals and indurated them by impregnation with mineral salts. To add to the horror which such a piece of furniture is calculated to inspire in the minds of most people, the fate of Count Rittaboca, its last owner, may be related. One Christmas Eve he and his friends were playing cards on this table, when suddenly he jumped up, pale and agitated, overcome by the fixed gaze of these petrified eyes. Yielding to a sudden attack of violent mania, he stabbed himself and fell upon the table. His heirs, as may be imagined, were very pleased to sell this funereal object to the Government, who installed it in its present situation.—Medical Press and Circular.

ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY.
WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming examples for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:—Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 10,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto published.

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasionally.

It comprises upwards of two thousand large quarto pages.

A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies.
